

THURS—JUN 13

An architectural gem in the Lake County town of Howey-in-the-Hills attests to Ernest Hemingway’s oft-quoted remark, “The rich are different.” To wander through the 24-room house built by the community’s founder, William J. Howey, is like stepping back into the 1920s.

*Due to its historic nature, The Howey Mansion Estate is not ADA accessible. Stairs are involved and there is not an elevator.

Our next stop will be the MISSION INN RESORT & CLUB. Located in the storied Central Florida town of Howey-in-the-Hills. Renowned for its picturesque rolling hills, orange groves, and shimmering lakes. Enjoy a lunch buffet at the resort's La Hacienda restaurant, consisting of assorted hot entrees, potato or rice, vegetables, unlimited soup, and salad bar, build your own sandwich station, ice cream sundae bar and beverages.
